ENGLAND.

LONDON, November 18.

To WALTERS CORNEWALL, and THOMAS FOLEY, Eſqrs. Repreſentatives in Parliament for the County of Hereford.

WE the Gentlemen, Clergy and Freeholders of this County, return you our hearty Thanks for your conſtant Attendance and ſteady Behaviour in Parliament; and tho' our Hopes of good Laws for the Preſervation of our Liberties have been hitherto, in moſt Reſpects, fruſtrated, yet our Obligations to you are the ſame, ſince that Diſappointment was in no Degree owing to any Fault of yours; nor do we yet deſpair, from your Perſeverance in the ſame Meaſures of ſeeing them at laſt crown'd with the deſir'd Succeſs; and it were to be wiſh'd that every Body, like you, had regulated their Actions by their Profeſſions; for whatever Notions ſome may entertain, certain it is that nothing but an honourable and uniform Conduct can render this Nation conſiderable Abroad and happy at Home.

It is our great Deſire that the Ballance of Power ſhould be ſupported, and that the Prince who has been evidently, to all Europe, long aiming at Univerſal Monarchy, diſappointed; but it ſeems to us, in the firſt Place, neceſſary that thoſe Perſons lately in Power, who were aiding and aſſiſting to ſuch deſtructive Schemes ſhould be puniſhed according to their Demerit; in order hereunto we muſt deſire you to enquire into the Miſmanagement of the Publick Money already granted, before you give more; and alſo to uſe your Endeavours that the ſalutary Laws we lately recommended may be paſs'd, particularly thoſe for further puniſhing falſe Returning Officers, thoſe againſt Placemen and Penſioners, and for repealing Septennial Parliaments.

It has been the Obſervation of other Nations, as well as your own, that Britiſh Valour has been the Effect of Britiſh Liberty, and when that ſhall be, by proper Laws, ſecur'd to us in its full Luſtre, and its Invaders, as well as the Diſſipators of our Treaſure and Favourers of our natural Enemies, call'd to a ſtrict Account, our Allies will ſoon wear a more open Face. When they ſee our Finances well manag'd, they will be ſenſible we ſhall be able to ſupport a War, and when they are convinced that thoſe who carried on a ſeeming War only have no longer any Influence on our Councils, they will think we intend a real one; but it muſt not be ſuppos'd they can have any Value for, or conſult the Advantage of a People, who they ſee have no Regard to their own Intereſt.

It is with no ſmall Concern we obſerve, from the Report of the Secret Committee, that the Nation's Wealth hath been laviſh'd away in Rewards to Perſons who have juſtly deſerv'd the ſevereſt Puniſhments; in particular, that immenſe Sums have been ſquander'd on a Set of wretched Scribblers, who have endeavour'd to ſap the Foundations of Liberty, and turn'd all publick Spirit, and even common Honeſty, into Ridicule. Theſe Things are worthy your Enquiry, and we hope you will uſe your utmoſt Efforts, that thoſe who appear to be the Promoters of ſuch Practices, may, in their Turns, receive the full Wages of their Iniquity.

And whereas it appears from the ſaid Report, that there has been already ſome extraordinary Management, with Regard to the Money intended for the Marine Regiments, we deſire you'll narrowly inſpect that Article; and the greater the Diſtance of Place, the more diligent ought your Enquiry to be; nor do we apprehend there can be any juſt Objection rais'd againſt an early Scrutiny into thoſe Accompts, ſince Experience has, to our Coſt, convinced us, that ſuch Inquiſitions have been generally made too late.

In theſe ſeveral neceſſary Enquiries, we perſuade Ourſelves, You will be vigorouſly aſſiſted by our preſent Miniſters, ſince the beſt Earneſt they can give of their own upright Intentions, will be to trace out and puniſh the uncommon Guilt of their Predeceſſors.

[Much to the like Purpoſe are the Inſtructions of near all the other Counties in ENGLAND, to their reſpective Repreſentatives in Parliament.]

London, November 19. We hear, that the Expreſs which brought over the Ratification of the Defenſive Treaty concluded between the Kings of Great-Britain and Pruſſia, arrived here on Monday Night.

The Preſs for Seamen is revived again in the Sea Ports, to mann the Fleet ordered to be got ready for the Channel Service.

London, Nov. 20. Private Letters from Dreſden adviſe, that if the Queen of Hungary's Armies ſhould be beat, the Courts of London, Berlin and Dreſden, will join their Forces, in order to drive the French out of Germany, by Virtue of an Alliance actually on the Tapis between them.

Private Letters by the laſt French Mail ſay, that ſix Companies of Marines are gone from Rochefort to Breſt, to ſerve on board the Squadron which they are equipping in the laſt Port, and which, they ſay, will conſiſt of 24 Sail

According to ſome Advices from Petersburgh, when the Marquis de Botta, complimented the Empreſs of Ruſſia, in the Name of the Queen of Hungary, on the Conqueſt of Finland, her Imperial Majeſty's Anſwer was, That ſhe only waited for the Concluſion of a Peace with Sweden, in order to turn her Arms againſt her Hungarian Majeſty's Enemies, and procure her all the Satisfaction and Reparation which the Juſtice of her Cauſe merits.

Her Majeſty, the Queen of Hungary, has been pleaſed to declare to Sir Thomas Robinſon, That the Report of a Negociation, between her Majeſty and the Court of France, was abſolutely without Foundation; and that, on the contrary, her Majeſty was ready to declare War againſt the French, whenever his Britannick Majeſty thought it proper; and that as a farther Proof of her Hungarian Majeſty's Dependance on Great Britain, ſhe was content to put the City and Port of Oſtend into the Hands of his Britannick Majeſty, that the former may ſerve for a Place of Arms, and the latter afford the better Opportunity of tranſporting ſuch Military Stores, as the Britiſh Forces Abroad may have Occaſion for

According to the laſt Advices from Bohemia, Prince Lobkowitz having repair'd the Bridge of Konigſhal, paſs'd the Moldau with the Corps under his Command: The Detachment of French Troops that were at Keſteletz, Brandeis and Bohmiſchbrodt, have re entered Prague. The Prince then march'd to All-Buntzlau, where the River Giſara falls into the Elbe: As ſoon as he arrived there, he heard that the French had abandoned the Poſt of Milneck, upon which he detach'd a Body of Croatians, to take Poſſeſſion of it.

The General St. Ignon having paſs'd the Elbe at Budin, with Four Hundred Horſe and One Hundred and Fifty Foot, cut off ſome Troops which the French had not withdrawn from Leuthmaritz. And an independant Company of French has been almoſt cut in Pieces near Beraun by a Squadron of Huſſars.

London,

London, Nov. 27. His Majesty's Ship the Lenox, Capt. Compton, is arriv'd at Lisbon from Gibraltar. In her Passage she took a French Vessel, laden with Butter for the Spaniards, and carried her into Lisbon.

Brussels, Nov. 18. The British, Hanoverian and Hessian Troops, have not yet receiv'd their ultimate Orders to begin their March towards Germany; but it is thought it will not be long before those Orders arrive, every Thing being actually in Readiness for a March.

The Earl of Stair arrived here Yesterday from Ghent, in order to confer with the Duke d'Arembergh, about the March of the Troops as well as about several other Matters. It is now given out, that only a Part of the British will be sent to Germany, and that the rest are to remain in Garrison at Ostend and Nieuport.

Two Battalions of the National Troops have already passed by this City, going to Luxembourg: Seventeen Battalions more of the said Troops, with Ten Squadrons and all the Independent Companies are to take the same Route forthwith.

We hear from the French Frontiers, that the Marshal Noailles is preparing to march with a Body of Troops towards the Country of Liege, from whence, it is thought, he will proceed to the Moselle, in order to dispute the Passage of that River with the English and other Troops.

Brussels, Dec. 3. The Earl of Stair has lately had several Conferences with the Duke of Arembergh and Prince George of Hesse Cassel, with Relation to the March of the Auxiliary Troops, which, as Things stand, is a Matter of the last Importance to her Hungarian Majesty. Velt Marshal Neuperg is gone to Luxembourg, in order to make the necessary Dispositions for the Accomodation of the English, Hessian and Hanoverian Troops which are to march that Way into Germany. 'Tis certain that the March of these Forces at this Season of the Year, is fatiguing, but then it is no less certain, that the French on their Side are preparing to send a large Reinforcement into Bavaria, where Prince Charles of Lorrain finds himself obliged to send for Two Regiments of Horse and Four of Foot from Prince Lobkowitz.

CHARLES TOWN, February 21.

On Tuesday the 15th Inst. his Majesty's Ship the Rose, Capt Thomas Frankland, Commander, arrived from a Cruize of three Months; he was the greatest Part of that Time in the Old-Straights of Bahama, without seeing one of the Enemy's Vessels, and came in now only to victual; He purposes to return to his usual Station in a few Days

Before Capt. Frankland went out last, he had the Thanks of the Merchants of this Place, for his Vigilance and Care in suppressing the Spanish Privateers that infested this Coast. As a farther Token of their Esteem, they then presented him with a handsome Silver Bowl.

The Beaufort, one of our Galleys, commanded by Capt. Braddock, we are inform'd, sail'd on a Cruize from Port-Royal some Days ago.

We hear that this Government hath received Advice from the Governor of New York, that a Body of French and Indians have marched by the Back of that Province to the Southward.

Yesterday the Spy Man of War commanded by Captain Newsham, returned into this Harbour, (a few Days sooner than the Time limited for his Cruize) having met with a Vessel bound to Cape Fear which had a Packet of great Importance from the Governor of the Bahama's to the Governor of this Province, which Packet he brought in, and also a Letter to Capt. Frankland in the Rose, belonging to that Station; the Contents of which we are told is, That the Governor of the Bahama's had receiv'd Intelligence, that the Governor of Havanna was going to embark 3000 Men upon another Expedition. Some of the English Prisoners which were brought in the Flag of Truce lately, from St Augustine, say, that another Expedition was much talked of there, and that the Spaniards only seemed to be in Doubt, whether the English would not attack St Augustine first

We hear from Providence, that Capt. Winkle in the Revenge Privateer, is sail'd from thence on a Cruize against the Spaniards.

The Mercy Sloop, Capt Dickinson, was lately lost near Port Royal, with all her Cargo.
